I am going to write about the film "Jaws" which I have seen recently. It is a thriller based on the novel of the same title. It was directed by Steven Spielberg and released in 1975. The film tells the story of a giant white shark which attacks tourists in a small resort town by the sea.

The story begins when a girl goes swimming during a beach party and disappears in the sea. The next day, her body is found. When the chief policeman finds out that the girl has been attacked by a shark during her swim, he wants to close the beach but the mayor does not agree with him. The beach is still open to other people and more accidents take place. Finally they decide to find the shark and kill it.

The film has a lot of thrilling moments and will keep you on the edge of your seat. The special effects are so spectacular that it is hard to believe the shark was not real.

I liked the film and would recommend it to everyone who likes films with suspense. It is not suitable for small children because there are some scary scenes.
