My worst trip ever

Skiing in the Alps

Two years ago my family and I went skiing in Tirol. I was looking forward to that trip because I love skiing, and my parents wanted to spend Christmas and New Year's eve there.

We arrived just before Christmas and spent a lovely Christmas evening at the hotel. On the next day, we went skiing. The weather was sunny in the morning, and we did not listen to the weather report. There were loads of people on the slopes. I did not mind, but my parents were not very happy and wanted to go somewhere else. We got into the car and went to another ski resort. Just around lunchtime, the sky became darker and darker, and it started to snow heavily. We decided to go back to our hotel, but while I was skiing downhill, I fell over. I couldn't move my arm because it hurt badly. My mum wanted to get some help, but her mobile phone was flat.

After half an hour, there was nobody on the slopes. It became foggy, and mum said that we had to ski downhill. It took us an hour to get to the ski lift where my dad was waiting for us. He called the ambulance, and they took me to a hospital in Innsbruck. We spent two hours there on Christmas Day! My arm was broken badly, and they had to put it in plaster. As a result, I could not go skiing for the rest of my holiday. I could not even go swimming at the hotel. I was sad and frustrated. What a boring holiday!
